CAVO

Cavo Exclusive Office series was designed as a response to the fluid and dynamic nature of modern work environments. Nowadays, as a result of the rapid development of modern working conditions, roles are less rigid and hierarchical, so more emphasis is placed on horizontal working relationships.

Based on these approaches, the design of this series goes beyond the idea of the traditional office, communicating extroversion and dialogue. When sharp, quick and accurate decisions are required, a person needs self-confidence. Confidence is a brain necessity, which frees it and allows ideas for the future to flourish.

With this in mind, the collection stands out for its carefully designed structural details and skillful use of materials, which result in an undeniable statement!
